Learn more about aligning arts education programs to Alabama education standards!

This virtual workshop designed for artists and program directors introduces how to use Alabama Course of Study standards when planning education programs. The session will also introduce the Standards Toolkit, a new tool to guide participants through the process of developing standards-aligned programs.

Participants will:

- Generate ideas for integrating standards into current and new programming
- Develop a working knowledge of common education & classroom terminology
- Access and learn to use the Standards Toolkit
