

The AMAZING SPACE RACE

Welcome, Space Racers! This guide suggests a fun route for your Amazing Space adventure, but feel free to zoom to any artwork you like!

This whimsical adventure will take most participants 1-2 hours to complete and is best-suited for kids and the young-at-heart. For a more traditional downtown art tour of a similar duration, we recommend our Downtown Art Essentials Tour.

Get Ready for Launch!

You're on an Amazing Space adventure, racing through Rocket City in your very own rocket! Keep an eye on your portal window, like the one here – you'll see awesome space surprises as you zoom around Huntsville.

But guess what? Your window is just a peek! To investigate each object, you'll need to land your rocket ship at each spot and use your eyes to find the artwork close by. That's where the real fun begins!

To learn more about any of the artworks, grownup humans can use a device to check out the Amazing Space Race digital guide on the Public Art Archive at the QR code on this page, which has links to each artwork's record.

When you're done downtown, you can check out our special "deep space missions" at the end for even more amazing public art discoveries elsewhere in Rocket City! You can also optionally tie in some of your Lucky Duck Scavenger Hunt with this adventure by scanning the QR code at the end of this guide and watching your radar for Duck Alerts!

Meet the Artonians

On your adventure, you'll also meet some friendly aliens that, just like the art, are of all different shapes, colors, and sizes! These aliens are from the distant planet of Artonia. They are visiting Earth for the very first time.

Since Artonians understand images, forms, and symbols better than human language, they think art is the perfect way to learn about humans, our city, and our planet.

They're super excited to join your race through some of Rocket City's most AMAZING Spaces!
